PAST PRESIDENTS

Willard R. Mumford Thomas E. Reichelderfer Carl M. Shrader

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Welcome to the new year. I sincerely hope that 1986 will be a prosperous year for each and every one involved in the numismatic hobby.

For those members who live out of state, our 1986 Convention appears to be progressing well. This year the host clubs are the Baltimore Coin Club; the Hardford Coin Huskers and the Maryland Token and Medal Society. The Convention General Chairmen are Bill Ayres and Greg Ruby. Most of the committee chairpersons are appointed and hard at work.

Congratulations to both the Baltimore Coin Club and MD TAMS for sharing the $25.00 attendance prize that we offer for the Fall Seminar. About 30 persons attended this seminar back in November.

In the last MARYLAND NUMISMATIST, I stated that I would like to see MSNA membership exceed 200 members. To my surprise, sixteen new members and one new club joined our ranks in that issue. That 200 member mark is now well within reach, for my computer database shows that we now have 184 members in MSNA. Let's all keep up the good work in obtaining new members.

Happy Collecting,

Bob

Bill Ayressand Greg Ruby will share the general chairmanship and will hold a show start up meeting within the month. Bob Ruby will review our contract with the Sheraton and if it is 0. reports their member Irv Blank, aw well as their club received 25 year pins at the 1985 ANA Convention in Baltimore. At their October meeting James M. Peed, a visual information specialsit with the Treasury Dept spoke on his experiences at the mint. He was the designer of the Viet Nam Veterans Medal and the $10.00 Gold Olympic Coin. At their December meeting Simcha Kuritsky spoke on the Jewish Holiday, Hanukka. He also displayed a set of Israel Hanukka coins that is almost complete. He also told what the subject on each was and what it meant.

We also learn that John L. Lewis is the new President of MCCC. PRINCE GEORGES COUNTY COIN CLUB hosted the 1985 Metropolitan Washington Numismatic Association Awards program to the DC area retarded citizens groups. This year each group they sponsor received $3,000.00. At their November meeting Bob cottington displayed coins and paper money he brought back with him from Bangladesh, Hong Kong, Japan, Republic of China, Thailand & Singapore.

KENT COIN CLUB's President, Bob Patterson transferred to a job in the D.C. area so at their 12 September meeting he turned the office over to VP Russ Frank for the rest of his term. For their efforts on behalf of National Coin Week, A N A medals were presented to members Mark Elder. Bob Patterson, Herb Simon, Terry Bryan, Dave Patterson and Lee Short, KCC reports their 29 Sep show was successful but was sparsely attended. At their October meeting Dave Patterson narrated a slide presentation on English Silver Crowns. At their November meeting Ross Evans presented a program on his recent trip to the Middle East.

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB'S "The Coin Courier", by Greg Ruby, is a fine club bulletin and one that our other club's Continued on pg 12

We regret to inform the membership that the Maryland State Numismatic Association has lost two very fine members since our last issue.

KENNETH D. BAUM, Charter Member Number 107, served as the Treasurer of M S N A from December 1975 thru April 1980. A conscientious hard working person Kenny only left office then because of other, pressing committments. His loss is felt deeply by all those with whom he worked. Your editor had the pleasure of working with Kenny throughout his tenure and considers this a very personal loss.

A. VERNON TAYLOR, Charter Member Number 88, who later converted to Life Member Number 3, passed away on 24 December 1985. Vernon served on many committees of MSNA but felt he could better serve in his local clubs than hold office in the State Organization. He did display at many of our shows and always presented an outstanding product. He wrote many articles on numismatics and was an editor of his local club bulletins. A true student of Numismatics Vernon leaves a gap that can not be filled.

To the families of both of these fine men we offer our deepest regrets.

lach year the Associated Coin Club's hold a Christmas Party for their membership with entertainment, food, of recent years potted flowers for the wives, and other attractions This past year 80 members and guests joined together for an afternoon of comradeship. Above are shown the Presidents of the four clubs who sponsor this event: Al Mills, from the Hamilton Coin Club; Bob Schultz - Perry Hall Coin Club; Gary Wolford - Middle River Coin Club and Frederic Cook, Jr Harford Coin Huskers.

On a pleasant fall afternoon your Treasurer, Bill Swagler, and your editor decided to go for a little drive and a visit with our friends in Western Maryland. We found a nice little coin show in LaVale, a lot of old friends and a few bargains to bring back home. In the picture above George and Betty Waingold take a session at the door greeting their visitors We also met MSNA's youngest member, Phillip Woods, and found him to be a most knowledgeable 4 year old.

When does a coin collector become a numismatist? A numismatist is a student of money, tokens and medals while a collector is just that! Many a person who merely hoards or collects coins, tokens and other such items know nothing of their history or anything else about them. Many authorities on numismatics have few coins or other such items. In fact, one might be a numismatist without even one such item but this is not very likely. But as soon as a collector begins to study about his coins he is well on the way to becoming a NUMISMATIST!!

Millard W. Hajek

We have a request from a collector in North Dakota for tokens from Perryman, Md, which were supposedly issued in the 1930's or 40's. If anyone has any information on these would you please advise your editor so he can pass the information on?

The Associated Coin Club's were most delighted to be able to host the annual Fall Seminar of the Maryland State Numismatic Association. A well attended group heard Julian Leidman give his opinion of grading and Joe Clarke tell about the early days of numismatics in the Washington, D. C. area, as he saw it. Baltimore Coin Club and Maryland Token and Medal Society tied for the attendance prize and each took $12.50 home to the club treasury. Following the program attendees were able to talk to our speakers over cheese and soda. Again we were treated to some fine exhibits and below our exhibitors are from left to right: Pete Burris, Bob Vaughan, Bobbie Vaughan and Jack Pryor.

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB's Thomas "Gordon" Roberts died on 13 November 1985 after a series of mishaps and health problems. A noted collector of currency (he was known as "The Paper Man"), a total fan of baseball and a political button collector; he loved the hobbies.

He was the President of Baltimore Coin Club in 1958 and was made an Honorary Life Member in 1979. B C C members were enlightened by and enjoyed his talks on bank notes and currency of all types.

This picture was taken in July of 1984 after he showed part of his collection at the Baltimore Coin Club meeting.

could well take a look at. September's Bulletin, however left something to be desired and ended with a famous quote- " $#()#@ computers! " - seems Greg had his material stored in the computer and when he went to go to press he found the machine had lost most of his material & there wasn't enough time to redo it and still go to press - hence the quote and the two missing pages. In keeping with their annual tradition the Hanover Numismatic Society from Pennsylvania visited the Baltimore Coin Club at their 17 October meeting. Arthur Aron gave a presentation on coins and paper money to the group. Baltimore Coin Club reports the loss of T.Gordon Roberts, President of the Club in 1958 on 13 November 1985. (see related item by Pete Burris).

My wife, Marge, and I took a run to Annapolis over the holidays to visit Henry and Betty Westphal. Henry sends his warmest regards to every one and says stop in if you get the chance.

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

With the winter months now past and Spring upon us, it is time to work on the lawns and in the gardens. It would also be a nice time to take a weekend drive and visit a club coin show that is being held. Besides being able to purchase a coin or token that is needed to fill a hole in your collection, you could enjoy a drive thru the country side, Maryland has a lot of scenic spots thru out the state.

Our Annual Convention in New Carrollton isn't that far in the future. Our Co-Chairmen, Bill and Greg, along with three host clubs are hard at work.

Exhibits Chairman, Pete Burris is looking for a lot of exhibits this year. Exhibiting is one way of showing off your collection and educating the public at the same time. I hope that this year will bring some new exhibits.

At the last Annual meeting, I stated that I would attempt to visit some of our member clubs. So far I have only visited with the Colonial Coin Club. I hoped to visit the Salisbury Coin Club, but unfortunately, my job interfered. There are times when we must please the boss.

One of the pleasures of participating in the happenings of Maryland State Numismatic Association is that it provides an excuse to travel to other parts of the state and visit with friends one would not otherwise be able to see. Bill Swagler and I traveled to Salisbury to meet with them at their March This was the first time I have been able to get there since our show of 1974 and it was a real pleasure to meet with some old friends, and to make some new ones. From the old group there were Sam Adkins, Ken Short and Howard Thomas. Also there were Adna Tyndall, Art Johnson, Morris Adkins, George Chevalier, Howard Hitchens, Ken, who was exhibits chairman for their show, presented plaques to the exhibitors. Niel Dickerson gave a most informative talk on Coins of India. FROM THE PRESIDENT:

The 14th Annual Convention is almost upon us. Both of the General Chairman have been hard at work ironing out some of the problems. Even Exhibit chairman Pete Burris is busy. Pete has received exhibit applications from several of our membership. This is an area that I hope that the membership will expand on, just to make Pete work a little harder.

At the last convention, when I took over as President of MSNA, I set a goal of 200 for total membership. Things were going great, we were only 14 or 15 members away from our goal, until I received the list from our membership committee of member who decided not to renew. Now, we are quite a ways from our goal. Try to help, sign up a new member, or even better, try to convince an ex-member to reconsider and rejoin our ranks.

During the past several months, MSNA board members were able to visit two clubs on the Eastern Shore, Salisbury and Cambridge. I was able to be present on the Cambridge trip and I really enjoyed visiting with the membership of that club. I was impressed by the number of Junior members in that club. If I remember correctly, five YN's were in attendance.

I would like to take this opportunity to invite all YN's to join us in our YN program on Saturday, Sept. 6th from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM. This program is being chaired by Jack Pryor and assisted by ANA VP Stephen R. Taylor.

MANA has requested a clear MSNA logo and solicited articles for their bulletin, thru their new editor, Laurese Byrd Katen. MANA Numismatist of the year application was also received. It was moved and passed that Bob Ruby be submitted as our nominee.

Bob Ruby reported A N A received the crab pins we sent them and Ruthy Hagerman sent us a letter of thanks. MD TAMS token book should be released in time for our September Convention. Bill Swagler will supply them the money we agreed to loan them to get the book on the street.

Bill Swagler has three lists of MSNA property in the hands of our various officers and members.

Our nominating committee for 1986 will consist of our three immediate past presidents, if they concur, with Carl Shrader as Chairman.

Bill Ayres reported we currently have 155 individual members and 20 clubs that have paid their dues.Bob Colcock's application for Life Membership was accepted as #19.

Bill Ayres and Bill Swagler visited the Salisbury Coin Club.

MINUILS - 29 June 1986 - Wintinued

Bob and Greg Ruby; Bill Swagler and Bryce Doxzon visited Garden State and received handout materials for our Y N program. A visit is planned to Cambridge on July 14th. Bill Swagler was appointed M S N A's representative to the ANA show in Milwaukee.

Bill Ayres reported Millard Hajck has retouched our logo and turnished us copies. One will be sent to Laurese Katen for MANA as requested. The proofs are marked as such and a set will be bept each by Bill Ayres, Bob Ruby, Bobbie Vaughan and Pete Burris to ensure safekeeping.

The Show is progressing well in all areas. Bryce will have ads to the Coin World and Numismatic News for the FUN and A N A conventions. Pete Burris has only received requests for 14 exhibit cases and is going to send out reminder cards. Tickets are moving slowly. Hank Schab reports the souvenir sheet is at the quinters. We need to give the Maryland Historical Society recognition for the use of their note, pay them $35 reproductive for and give them two copies. We have nothing in writing for the Postal Cancellation Booth. North Carroll Business will print and mail our show notices at a rate of $850 for 4,000 plus 1,000 hundouts compared to the approx $1,000.00 paid last year for our $201ling. Blaisdal will be contacted to procure the labels.

Denovod Kelly informed us the Maryland Historical Society would like to get involved in the production of a book on paper money on the State, with him as their agent. Arman Shank is very involved in some personal matters and is very ready to have sometime continue the efforts. The collections of Tom Gordon and Arman's as well as those of the Maryland Historical Society and Demovod's have been photographed and he has the photos. He has also received a promise of cooperation from Dr. Rothstein. It was noted we accept Denwood as our new Chairman of this committee.

Will Mumford was absent but he has informed us he will present a $\frac{1}{2}\log 2$ at our convention from the JOHN B. HENRY Collection.

Our tall seminar has been rescheduled to Nov. 16. Bill Lenz is to video tape the session with the MANA equipment.

Bill Swagler suggested we have wooden flats made to give out at the educational program of our convention. There will be 100, numbered 1 thru 100 and those not issue destroyed. Suggestion adopted.

When we told the members of the Cambridge Club we were coming down the answer was: "Fine, we'll be glad to see you. We meet at the Library". Now, when someone tells me they meet at the Library, presume they mean in the library. As you can see from these pictures: Cambridge Coin Club meets "At the Library". Seriously, we had a fine time and as is always the case with our member clubs we found that the same problems abound - including having the one with the key forget the meeting - it happens to all of us, but they knuckle down, someone fills in for the missing officers, the guest speaker ad libs because he forgot his notes and everyone has a great time. If they're lucky they even go home with some new acquistions for their collection.

FALL SEMINAR

NOVEMBER 16, 2:30 P.M.

MANUEL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, CATONSVILLE

Carl M. Shrader Seminar Chairman

Charles Hoskins Director, INSAB

Today, everyone seems to have an opinion encerning the grading of coins. The terminology and definition of grade is under discussion at most club meetings, coin shows and wherever collectors gather. The grading of coins in being attacked from all sides.

Dr. William Sheldon in 1949 published a 1 - 70 grading scale with the intention to grade large cent pieces. The numbers were assigned according to condition and the potential price, contemporary to Sheldon's time. For some reason those standards have been applied to the various types and varieties of coins, and using today's criteria.

Why do we have such varying standards? Are they based on general definitions and personal interpretation so the seller can assign his own price range for coins? Has the American Numismatic Association Certification Service succumbed to the heavy dealer membership on the Board? Is our hobby organization giving in to dealer base standards?

Should the value of a coin be based on a certificate or "derive from the issue date of the document and the service which issued it"? asked a recent Coin World Trends preface.

Is there a change in standards? Do you hear the increasing number of complaints? The coins you bought several years ago are not graded the same today. Why? There is a lack of uniformity. Is Sheldon's system practical for all coins? Did he not use only three grades of uncirculated? Grades lower than uncirculated were accepted to be imprecise and intermediate levels were discouraged. Years later when MS 60 - 65 - 70 was changed to five grades including 63 and 67 we were startled. Some dealers and collectors continued to use their own version of grading, unlike those who saw coins only as investment and financial vehicles.

So we now have a miscreation. Coin collecting can't be fun when we grade MS - 60 - 61 - 62 - 63, etc., etc., etc. Will they confine the rigid, point by point standards to the 60 - 70 numbers.

For the collector the object is not so economic. But don't be limited; our Fall seminar deals with the issue of grading. Don't be naive. It is obvious that in time the value curve of coins now in the 60 - 70 range will drop more to the collectable grades. Let's talk it up.

On November 16, at 2:30 p.m. Charles Hoskins, Director of the International Numismatic Society Authentication Bureau will speak to us on full service grading.

In a recent ad Charles stated, "We certify and grade all coins...not just U.S....and we certify medals, tokens and even U.S. paper money. And we offer grading without authentication. (Why pay for authentication when you know the coin is genuine...you need grading only!) Did you know that INS offered the first grading service, in December, 1976? And we've done our best not to change our grading standards over the years. No one asks when a coin was graded by INSAB, because our standards are very consistent."

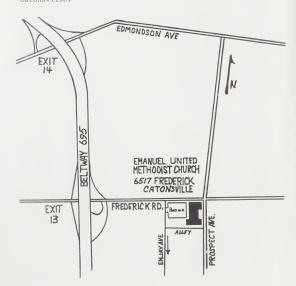

The presentation will be illustrate by use of video camera and color T.V. monitor operated by Bill Lenz. Bill

BITS, BILLS & TOBACCO... The Story of Money in Colonial

by Will Mumford

(All rights reserved by the author)

Part IV. COINS

The world has long accepted gold and silver as the standard means of exchange and it was only natural for the early settlers of America to establish these precious metals as their standard. But no silver or gold was found in the English settlements of North America and the lack of bullion prevented coin from becoming the colonists chief medium of exchange.

In 1650, a small Maryland militia threatned mutiny for lack of pay. The governor had no money so he paid the soldiers in cattle and then taxed the colonists half a bushel of corn to support his salary. The soldiers were satisfied for the moment, but it was obvious that as the Maryland society was becoming more populated and more complex the lack of real money - coins was becoming a critical issue. Several leading colonists suggested to Lord Baltimore that he mint his own coins for the colony of Maryland.

The power of coining money had been granted by the crown to Virginia, but was not mentioned in the charter to Lord Baltimore. But Cecil Calvert, the second Lord Baltimore, assumed the powers were were conveyed. More money would stimulate trade which in the long run would prove more profitable for the colonists as well as the Lord Proprietor. Motivated mostly by the latter, Lord Baltimore had dies made in London and specimens of his coins were struck in 1659. Sample specimens were sent to the colonial legislature for their approval. But within ten days after the coins arrived, Governor Fendall, supported by some of his council, attempted to overthrow the power of Lord Baltimore, a move probably motivated by the overthrow of the King of England by Oliver Cromwell (1649-1660). Fendall's revolt proved unsuccessful and under the new Governor, Philip Calvert, (Lord Baltimore's brother), the legislature in 1661, passed an act for the establishment of a mint in the province of Maryland. We can only assume the legislature also approved Lord Baltimore's coins as the proprietor approved the act and shipped a sufficient quantity of coins to the province to supply its immediate needs. All taxable persons were required to exchange sixty pounds of tobacco for ten shillings of the new coinage. There are no records of the amount of coins placed into circulation by Lord Baltimore, but at that time there were at least 5000 taxable persons living in Maryland. This means that a maximum of £2500 of Maryland coins could have been placed into circulation. From this it can be estimated that a probable combination of shillings. sixpences and fourpences could have been: 25,000 shillings and 30,000 each of the six pence and the four pence coins. If this were so then for 60 pounds of tobacco a planter would receive five shilling coins and six each of the sixpence and fourpence coins. Seventeen coins of no matter what denomination would not go far even in the early colonial days. From the present day scarcity of the Lord Baltimore coins, it is hard to believe that many of the coins were actually placed into circulation.

The crown did not agree with Lord Baltimore's assumed powers to mint coins. The Council of State in England issued a warrent for Lord Baltimore's arrest for minting coins for his colony in Maryland. No record has been found to substantiate any action taken upon the arrest, but it is speculated that any decision of the Council of State must not have been too severe as Lord Baltimore's coins continued to circulate in Maryland. But the Council of State may have brought Lord Baltimore's minting days to an end as a violation of British law. This would help explain the scarcity of the Proprietary coins.

Lord Baltimore stood to make a tidy profit from his coins as they contained only 75% of the silver of their British counterparts. This amounts to the tidy sum of £675 on the estimated £2500 released into circulation. Any increase in business due to the coins would also generate more taxes to the proprietor.

It is also interesting to note that the Maryland coins were made at least eight years before the famous Pine Tree coins of Massachusetts and at least a year before the Oak Tree coins. Only the very rare NE and Willow Tree coins were minted before the Maryland coins.

There is no record of a mint actually being constructed or in operations in colonial Maryland. Although authorized by the Maryland Assembly in 1661, this adventure was probably squelched by the Council of State in England. The Lord Baltimore coins made very little impact on the economy of the colony as they did not circulate in sufficient quantity to be of much use. Numismatists today are facinated to even see a Lord Baltimore coin and would have to sell their soul or at least an arm or leg to obtain one.

What happened to all the Baltimore coins is not known. Their scarcity today indicates that either they were recalled and destroyed or not many were actually placed into circulation. Perhaps there still exists - somewhere in Maryland - a hoard or cache of Lord Baltimore's coins just waiting to be discovered.

SOME COUNTERFEITING IN COLONIAL MARYLAND Henry W. Schab

As early as 1661 the Maryland Assembly provided for the establishment of a mint to strike silver money. It also noted that any offense of clipping, scaling, washing, counterfeiting such coin was to be punishable by death or forfeiture of all lands and goods to the Lord Proprietor.

In 1705 one Richard Clarke and Benjamin Celie were convicted of counterfeiting Maryland money. After many trials, confined to jail and escaping Clarke was finally taken in 1708. The Council ordered that Clarke "attained of High Treason and Felony" be executed.

In 1773 an act for issuance of 90000 pounds in bills was passed and it contained a clause providing death without benefit of clergy for counterfeitors, their aides or abbetors or knowing passers of false bills.

In 1734 a grand jury held in Annapolis indicted John Malcom for having knowlingly passed counterfeit twenty shilling bills. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to be hanged in Anne Arundel County. He was hanged in December of 1743.

The death penalty did not deter persons from counterfeiting foreign coins. The Marvland Gazette of 22 March 1749 warned that three sorts of false milled dollars, two dated 1741 and the other 1744 were in circulation. In those dated 1744 in the word VTRAQUE the R and A were too far apart so that the one word looked like two. In one of the 1741 coins the A in HISPAN was very small and in the other the space where the date was placed was much broader than in the good coins. The left side of the crown on the left hand pillar was directly under the A in VTRAQUE while in the genuine pieces it fell between the R and A. The false money was well milled though the letters were not as well done and regular as the genuine coins. It was determined that there was only 2 shillings 8 pence worth of silver in them and the rest was probably copper. It was noted that if a little of the silvered surface was scraped away and the spot then sullied by being rubbed on the "short hair of a man's head" the coppery color would appear. When placed on the end of a finger and struck with a key the false coins yielded a shriller sound than the genuine coin.

Several Germans were jailed for coining these coins but the reals makers of the coins were not found.

A certain Edward Rumney who was a member of a gang of coiners

In Virginia is a special interest because he had been a tavern keeper in Annapolis. He had been arrested but fled to Maryland where Gov. Samuel Ogle was requested by the Virginia Governor to send him back. He had been accused of coining "a great amount of false double doubloons". Rumney was eventually returned to Wrginia but he broke out of jail and there is no record of his recapture.

In the Feb. 27, 1752 issue of the Maryland Gazette we see an amount of that warns of the appearance of several false places of eight "cast of good pewter or hard metal".

In 1753 a German named Daniel Jeffron was arrested in Philadelphia for passing false ten shilling Maryland notes. In his house were found nearly 1000 notes, all numbered with the same mamber 4452 but not all signed. Jeffron was tried and convicted. He was whipped twice, stood one hour in the pillory to which the table of his right ear was nailed and then cut off.

Name other incidents of counterfeiting were reported throughout 1768 and 1770. By this time there were many counterfeitors at work in the British Colonies in America and the situation was called worse by the arrival of convicts to the colonies. The Dec. of 1770 issue of the Maryland Gazette noted the arrival of the colonies of the Maryland Gazette noted the arrival of the counterfeit deciments on board and commenced that within a short time after their landing they passed some poorly made counterfeit dollars and some false antilings.

Some of the counterfeit Maryland bills were made in other tellmies. A certain Samuel Ford of Morris County, N.M. had been ofcested and jailed but escaped. In September 1773 a search for Finting materials was made in a swamp where Ford had kept his presses. A set of plates for printing Maryland currency and mutrencles of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York were found. History tells us that Ford eventually settled in what is now well virginia nad under the name of Baldwin carried on the trade of allversmith.

We have seen that Maryland had taken early measures to protect its paper money by imposing the death penalty for counterfeiting. This drastic measure was enforced several times as noted. Again in 1773 the assembly passed another act providing the death penalty for counterfeiting or passing bills of Maryland AND of any colony.

In March the public was again cautioned that false Maryland dollar bills were circulating. They were dated 1 March 1770, printed on a paper that was much smoother and thinner than that used for genuine bills. They were also badly cut on copperplate forms. In January of 1775 counterfeit Maryland 8 dollar bills dated 10 April 1774 were circulating in Philadelphia.

It seems that a plan to forge Maryland notes in Germany was detected. However the greatest threat came from the British for on January 6, 1776 a printing press on board the HMS PHOENIX in New York Harbor was turning out bills of the Continental Congress, printing by day and passing them out at night. In April 1777 a New York newspaper printed a notice that counterfeit bills could be purchased for the price of the paper. Without a doubt this counterfeiting contributed greatly to the tremendous depreciation of the American currency and could have produced serious consequences in the outcome of the Revolution.

This discussion cannot be concluded without briefly describing a most unique counterfeiting method used by one of the most successful counterfeitors of the colonial times. A genuine note was used to transfer its image onto a piece of muslim by a hot iron. This image was then transferred to a piece of paper by the hot iron and any imperfections were touched up by a quill and black ink. This man operated successfully for years and although the authorities suspected him and raided his home frequently they could find no plates, no presses and no engraving tools. He was hauled into court several times but it was difficult to convict a suspect because he owned a jar of black ink and several crow quills. He became one of the wealthiest men in Rhode Island, retired from "business" and was respected by his neighbors. His ingenious system was revealed after his death by relatives who had been excluded from his will. As a final note these relatives received prison sentences for failure to reveal this "money making" system.

THE DIME

...by Robert W. Ross III

MSNA LM #7

He couldn't have been more than five or six at the time. It was one of those wondrous spring days, warm and sunny, and yet not hot. It was a Sunday and his father had decided to take him to visit the Gettysburg battlefield. In typical little boy fashion, he had meandered aimlessly over the fields and in the woods, something like a young dog, with his master and yet not really.

Jumping over a log and scattering the leaves, he fell heavily, grabbing at the earth to support himself. Dirt and leaves and something cold came up in his left hand. When he dropped the debris, he saw it, a dime. He was puzzled. Why was it here? Picking it up, he examined it. It was not too shiny and yet it looked somewhat new. Pocketing his discovery, he soon forgot about it. It was rediscovered when he was undressing for bed that night. Thinking that he was indeed fortunate to have discovered such a treasure, he sleepily placed it in a cigar box which contained his baseball cards and other treasures.

Time passed, years really, a lifetime practically, and the memento of that day was treasured and handled fondly many times. He loved it because it was old and unlike any he had ever seen. The date was 1860 and must have been carried in soldier's pocket. Years later he learned that the "O" on the reverse meant that it was made in New Orleans and surmised that it must have belonged to a Confederate soldier. His later fascination in studying the battles of the War Between the States caused him to reflect that a soldier might have died there and laid unnoticed. Perhaps even as he laid there in decomposition, his pockets rotted and the dime fell to earth.

Joey, or Joe, as he was later called in adulthood lived a moderately successful life. He never thought a whole lot about the dime, it was just his. He never remembered to show the dime to his father or even tell him about it.

His father lived into his ninety's despite having lost a leg as a result of a wound received in the Great War. Never a soldier himself, Joey idolized his father and always thought of him as a war hero. When his father died, Joey remembered that he had never told his father about the dime.

As he looked down at his father stretched out in sublime peace at the funeral home, Joey suddenly wanted to correct his oversight. Rushing home, he took the dime from its hiding place and took it back to the funeral home. Slipping it into his father's pocket, he thought how appropriate it was for the dime to be going from one dead soldier's pocket to another.

Is your club in competition for the JOHN B. HENRY membership trophy? To earn the right to hold this trophy for a year your club must have the highest percentage of club members also being members of Maryland State. The Harford Coin Huskers have won for several years with an average of 40 to 45%.

Bring some new members into M S N A and earn the right to take home the HENRY WESTHAL Membership Trophy. This trophy is only earned by bringing the most new members on board since the last convention. The U.S. Trade Pollar is a coin of silver, weighing 420 grains, 900 fine 19 parts of pure silver to 1 of alloy), containing 378 troy grains of pure silver. The main purpose in coining trade dollars was to provide an outlet for the abundance of silver coming out of the bonanza mines of Nevada in the 1870's and to spare our traders with the Orient from having to pay a premium for Spanish/Mexican Dollars, the money medium in which that trade was conducted.

The Spanish/Mexican Dollar had an average standard slightly better than 417 grains, 902 fine, thus containing 377 plus grains of pure silver, while the standard American Dollar was 371 ½ grains of pure silver and, in value, was inferior to the Mexican coin. Had the value of the American dollar been set to the standards of the Mexican coin, a special trade dollar might not have been necessary. Mintage of U.S. Dollars was supposed to be for China and East India trade, but mintage was very low (an average of only 80,000 per year). The U.S. Consular to China advised the U.S. that our standard silver dollar was very newlectantly taken at the treaty ports (Foochow, Canton, Amoy, Ningpo and Shanghai) and not at all in the intension of China. They were believed by the Chinese to be of less value than they actually were.

China loved silver, but was not a silver producing country and did not have a silver coinage of its own until 1889. The Spanish/Mexican Pollar was universally accepted in China since it was the most plentiful, most uniform and most clearly marked by year and mint, making counterfeiting easy to trace. The Chinese merchant, who had to pay the ultimate penalty, not only had to be concerned by the differences between the coins of the several nations offered in payment for his goods, but constantly wany of attempts at counterfeiting those in which he placed his greatest trust. The Chinese came to view with suspicion all coin except the Spanish/Mexican Dollar, on which they could been a trained five.

Our trade with China consisted of furs, cotton, sandalwood, genseng, opium, quickselver and specie (selver coins) in exchange for tea, cassia, silks, sugar, candy and nankeens hanceloomed cloth woven at Nanking). In some years specie was in such demand that it was necessary to advertise payment of a premium for Spanish Mexican coins in order to obtain enough for carge. From 1831-1860, the US. imported $147,000,000 worth of silver, producing only 18 of that amount. However, with the discovery of silver in bunanza proportions in 1859, it became necessary to find a profitable market for dumping our surplus silver and China was the ideal solution.

In 1873 a Coinage Act was passed which discontinued the standard silver dollar and called for the coining of a special trade dollar. The substitution of the standard silver dollar by the trade dollar gave it legal tender status for amounts up to $5, even though the coins were not the property of the Government and vere not intended for circulation within the U.S. The silver owners provided bullion which the Mint coined into trade tellars at his request and expense. The new coin was heavier than the Spanish/Mexican dollar in the hope that the Chinese weald accept it (378 grains pure silver compared to 377 ¼ for the Spanish/Mexican piece).

The Chinese were quick to ascertain the larger amount of silver in the trade dollar and by 1875 they were in great demand. By 1878, they were legal tender in the ports of Foochow and Canton in China and also at Saigon and Singapore, although not legal currency in the Colony of Hong Rong. It was only in these southern ports the people were familiar with these coins and they commanded a premium over the Mexican piece. They were still unknown in the northern part. The Chinese issued proclamations commending them to the peoples and forbidding their mutilation (chop marks), but the Chinese people were very slow to change.

It would have taken many years for our trade dollar to become accepted by the Chinese as the coin of the realm, but problems at home caused its downfall. The decline of the price of silver with the glut, which was to cause the discontinuance of the trade dollar in our monetary system, had no effect upon the use of silver in China, where silver dollars in one form or another remained a standard until banned in favor of paper money in 1935.

The Coinage Act of 1873, which provided for the trade dollar did not specify its purpose. The literal translation was that the trade dollar was a legitimate coin of the U.S. and subject to laws against counterfeiting. Nothing in the law denied "home circulation" even though they were designed expressly for export and had no fixed value compared to gold. In 1873, a trade dollar was worth $1.05 in gold and $1.15 in greenbacks. With the price of silver declining below the value of gold and greenbacks, it became profitable for owners of trade dollars to place them in circulation here, since they could receive face value for the coins even though the bullion value was less than $l.

On July 22, 1876, a Coin Act was passed which removed the legal tender status and limited coinage of the trade dollar to actual need for export. This helped stabilize the price of silver, but it never again reached that of $1$ in gold. In June, 1877, the Secretary issued an order to discentinue coining of trade dollars, stating there was no further need since thew were abundant in home circulation. No new orders were accepted or backorders processed unless the owners could prove a need for export of the coins. The ewners fabricated stories to have their trade dollars coined, then turned around and put them in circulation, forcing Secretary Sherman to clamp down and end coinage of the trade dollars completely. The last trade dollar was coined in December, 1877, at the Philadelphia Mint, February, 1878 at the Carson City Mint and April, 1878 at the Sa

The total mintage of trade dollars was 35,963,558, including 8,758 proofs. Of these, 27,700,754 had been expected, 2,074,812 were returned to the U.S. for a total of 10,337,616 in U.S. circulation. There is no record of what the Chinese took back to China, but the estimated amount is 1,500,000.

The law was carried on the books for nine years. It was not feasible to repeal the trade dollar in 1878 because of growing Chinese acceptance and the need for a market for our surplus silver. However, they become such a thern in the side of merchants because of their use by speculators, that the Redemption Act of March 3, 1887 came to be. In order to remove the trade dollars from circulation the government redeemed them at 23% above bullion (which at that time was 75%) for a portion for the exceed six months (to control speculation). No matitated or chapped coins were accepted, causing a stand exidus from the country of 1,652,938 (about 80% of these returned to the U.S. during 1879-1882). The number of trade dellars redeemed was 7,889,035 or 175 of the total preduced. These were melted and coined for subsidiary coins on March 3,1891.

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Our 14th Annual Convention is now history, and I would like to thank the three host clubs - Baltimore Coin Club, MD TAMS, and the Harford Coin Huskers - for their efforts in supporting us. I would also like to thank the club members who served as a chairmen and to all of those who gave of their time to help us. To all, THANKS.

Our next project is the FALL SEMINAR, to be held on November 16th at Emanuel United Methodist Church in Catonsville. Carl Shrader has arranged for a super seminar. I hope to see you there. Look elsewhere in this issue for more information on the Seminar.

Several weeks ago, I was a speaker at a meeting of Boy Scout Troop 381 in Westminster. The purpose of my visit was to help the Scouts earn their coin collecting merit badge. Several of the Scouts had their collection with them for me to view. MSNA has offered support to this troop, and would like to extend the same to other troops.

Bill Swagler, Bryce Doxzon, my son Greg and myself treated our selves to a trip to the MANA Convention in Philadelphia. It was great to see Steve Taylor moving around again. It was announced at their Awards Breakfast that Carl Shrader was chosen as their Numismatist of the Year. Congratulations Carl.

At our annual meeting, MSNA selected the host clubs for 1987. They are the Catonsville Coin Club, Colonial Coin Club and the Harford Coin Huskers. The committee is hard at work and promise a great convention for next year.

As always, I would like to urge the clubs and their members to take an active part in MSNA. Remember, MSNA is only as active as its members. Sign up a new member or two.

Happy Collecting,

FALL SEMINAR

NOVEMBER 16, 2:30 P.M.

EMANUEL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, CATONSVILLE

The church can be seen from Frederick Road at the Beltway. Parking is available in the lot and on the street (Frederick Rd.). The street address is 6517 Frederick Road, Catonsville.

Stayon top!

On November 16, at 2:30 p.m. Charles Hoskins, Director of the International Numismatic Society Authentication Bureau will speak to us on full service grading.

In a recent ad Charles stated, "We certify and grade all coins...not just U.S...and we certify medals, tokens and even U.S. paper money. And we offer grading without authentication. (Why pay for authentication when you know the coin is genuine...you need grading only!) Did you know that INS offered the first grading service, in December, 1976? And we've done our best not to change our grading standards over the years. No one asks when a coin was graded by INSAB, because our standards are very consistent."

Today, everyone seems to have an opinion concerning the grading of coins. The terminology and definition of grade is under discussion at most club meetings, coin shows and wherever collectors gather. The grading of coins in being attacked from all sides.

Is there a change in standards? Do you hear the increasing number of complaints? The coins you bought several years ago are not graded the same today. Why?

Come and be a part of this all important educational event.

The presentation will be illustrated by use of video camera and color T.V. monitor operated by Bill Lenz. $\,$

OUR MEMBER CLUBS REPORT

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB has had a very active summer. They began their activities with a crab heast. Not to call any names but 33 of them put away 377 crabs. Even for Baltimore that must be some kind of a record. After actively participating as one of the Host Clubs for the MSNA Convention they proceeded to hold their 18 September 1986 meeting at the Federal Reserve Bank in Baltimore. After a tour of the bank we proceeded to hold a meeting as shown in the picture below.

On October 16th the club hold a special meeting to which they invited all of the former members they could contact. 04 special interest to many of us was the appearance of Al Smith who was general chairman of a couple of our MSNA shows in the early 70's. Al sort of dropped out of sight but we now kind he has moved to Belair; just south of Cumberland. Bob Bedford supervised the preparation of a most appealing buffet and Merle Hess presented us with a study of Thomas Jefferson. This was also the night of the annual visit by members of the Hanover Coin Club from Pennsulvania.

KENT COIN CLUB informs us they have appointed Bev Carman to serve as secretary and Rusty Wolfe as Junior Board Member for the balance of the year. We are sorry to hear that their member, Steve Taylor has had a great deal of disficulty with his back and has spent quite a bit of time in the hospital and recuperating. We hope that he is now well on the way to recovery

HARFORD COIN HUSKERS enjoyed their annual picnic and crab feast despite a thunderstorm that arrived later in the day. Shown above is Bill Swagler who roasted the beef laided by Bot Kuzma!; watched the corn, the coffee & the other goodies. When the rain fell we moved into the garage and enjoyed roast beef sandwiches and good company. The crabs didn't last that long; by the time the rain began they were long gone.

MSNA and our member clubs offer our condolances to Bill Lenz on the loss of his father.

Paul Finck informs me that our member clubs are welcome to use the "Club" table at his shows in the Holiday Inn at 2004 Green Spring Drive, Timonium, to promote their clubs and club activities. Tables are $35.00 and if any individual wishes to use one he can contace Paul at Box 101, Timonium, 21093. Show dates will be listed in the Calendar.

BEIMAR COIN CLUB is proceeding with plans to hold a "Mall Show" at the Harford Mall on 16 May 1987. This show will be held at the Harford Mall in Belair and will be set up in the center of the main bldg from 9:30 am to 9:30 pm. Should be interesting.

THE NOTES OF STEPHEN WEST * 1761 *

Will Mumford

On the bottom of page 130 of Eric P. Newman's excellent Bicentennial Edition of The Early Paper Money of America is a listing of a 1761 private issue of small change promissory notes of Nathan West. Newman states that the notes are "redeemable in silver at his (Wests) stores, his home, or at the places of business in Annapolis of Robert Couden or Nathan Hamond..." He lists denominations of 6 pence and 2 shillings 6 pence, but notes that "other denominations were minted.

Several years ago, while doing research on John Chalmers, I came across the following ad from the August 27, 1761 issue of the Maryland Gazette:

"I sometime ago mentioned my intention of striking a Parcel of small Notes, from SIX PENCE to HALF A CROWN each, to serve as small Money in Exchange, for my own Convenience and that of my Neighbours, provided no better Scheme was concluded on by the Gentlemen in Business: and as the Want of such small Money is notorious. I have therefore ventured to Print a Number of such Notes. payable in Silver, at the Rate of Seven Shillings and Six Pence per Dollar, according to the following Specimen of each Bill, any of which shall be paid off in Silver on Demand, and the whole Notes called in, in less than 3 years from the Date. All those who happen to be possessed of a Dollar's worth of these Notes, may have them exchanged for Dollars, by Mr. Robert Couden, and Mr. Nathan Hammond, junior, of Annapolis, Merchants. By my Store-Keepers, Mr. John Duvall at Queen-Anne, Mr. Sammuel Lane at Pig-Point, Mr. George Hardey at Piscataway, Mr. Thomas Magruder at George-Town, or at my own house in Upper-Marlborough. If either the Legislature. or any Society of Gentlemen, can or will contrive a sufficient Quantity of Small Money that will more effectually answer The Furpose, I will instantly call in all mine. STEPHEN WEST"

I was elated to find such an ad, but was startled to find printed below the commentary copies of Stephen West's notes. The copies were probably faithful reproductions of the actual notes as the printers of The Gazette were listed as the witnesses on the notes. Which also means that the notes were printed by Jonas Green and his assistant William Rind in their Charles Street printing shop in Annapolis. From this ad it is also reasonable to assume that the notes were actually printed and circulated.

I have corresponded with Eric Newman and he has no record of any such notes in existance, nor do any Maryland collectors that I know of. His source for Nathan West's notes was Kathryn L. Behrens 1923 publication of Paper Money in Maryland 1727 - 1789. Dr. Behrens makes reference to the notes of Nathan West, but cites the correct issue of the Maryland Gazette. Where she got Nathan no one knows. Mr. Newman has filed the error and will make the correction in his next edition.

Many Stephen West ads appear in the Maryland cazette. He was very much involved in the West India and European trade and it is interesting to note that he accepted payments in "Bills, Cash, Tobacco, Wheat, Corn and other Country Produce." One of his ads appears just above his ad on the small change promissory notes. Stephen West was obviously a successful entrepreneur with stores in so many locations... does anyone know the where abouts of Fig-Point? Any additional information on Stephen West or his notes would be appreciated.

is now history but let us not let it pass without recordation. A hardworking group of members put on one of the smoothest operating shows we have ever held (if not the smoothest). It was most unfortunate we couldn't come up with the numbers of dealers and special events as past years — our committee men tried hard enough — they just weren't there. Approximately 1000 people came thru the doors to enjoy the show. 25 Young Numismatists attended a well rounded program led by Jack Pryor. Come with us now for a last look at the show.

Greg & Bill

Our outgoing and incoming officers conduct the annual meeting. Bill Swagler, Treasurer; Bobbie Vaughan, Secretary; Pete Burris, Vice President and Bob Ruby, President.
Below: Pete Burris with his grandson Gordon Hunt, one of the newest, and certainly the youngest member of the Baltimore Coin Club. Pete's very active camera provides many of the pictures which appear in our bulletin.

A synopsis of the Report of the Annual Meeting of the MSNA held at New Carrollton on 7 Sep 1986 made by Bobbie Vaughan, Secretary.

Secretary Vaughan gave a summary of the events of the previous year and this was followed by a current report from Treasurer, Seagler.

Our show Co-chairman, Bill Ayres, reported that this was one of the smoothest operating shows we have ever put on. We collected $475. at the Thursday Night Dealers session and this will be donated to the Johns Hopkins Children's Cancer Fund.

It was reported we have 158 individual members and 21 paid member clubs. We currently have 17 Life Members.

Bob Ruby reported that this is the sixth year we have had souvenir sheets and while they haven't done that well Florida Currency and Coin approached us at the show and bought all of the previous years which we had on hand at the show.

Bob Ruby then summarized his past year in office. Approximately 1/3 of our member clubs were visited this year. Will Mumford has done a great job cataloging the John B. Henry Collection plus putting an exhibit from it in this years show. The MD TAMS Maryland Token Book has a target date of December and we have submitted a bid to ANA to host their '94 Convention. Our fall seminar date is set for 16 Nov.

Bill Ayres submitted a proposed amendment to the Constitution of MSNA to include life membership which was accepted. (see article in this bulletin for the full text of the change).

Will Mumford reported for the nominating committee and announced that 60 ballots were summitted and that the current officers were unanimously re-elected.

Bids for Host Club for '87 were received from Harford Coin Huskers, Baltimore, Catonsville and Colonial Coin Clubs. After discussion it was decided to select three host clubs and they were to be the Harford Coin Huskers, Catonsville and Colonial Coin Clubs.

Pete Burris moved Greg Ruby be selected as Show Chairman with Bryce Doxzon as Assistant, Motion passed.

We plan to look into alternate possibilities for future show sites.

Will Mumford reported he has 7 possible programs from the John B. Henry material and that we need to make further use of the Material. Will is also going to look into the feasibility of insurance.

The next Executive Board meeting to be held 23 October 1986 at the Grace United Methodist Church in Baltimore at $7:30~\mathrm{pm}$.

GEORGE R. BOWMAN of HAGERSTOWN

by Will Mumford with assistance and encouragement from John B. Henry...

I often waste my spring break from the community college where I work....but this past spring I was determined to do some work on many research projects that have been piling up on my home desk, so I reserved Thursday, March 27, 1986, for a trip to Hagerstown to fulfill a promise made to good friend, & founder of our society, John B. Henry. Among the many Civil War Tokens John donated to the society is the very rare George R. Bosman token of Hagerstown, Md. With the 1862 date it has always been included as a Civil War issue but some doubt has been shed as to whether or not George R. Bowman was really in business in 1862.

John Henry did some research some years back & I asked him to document it for publication. He wrote out the facts as he could remember them but asked me to verify his data before putting it in print; thus the purpose of my trip.

I started at City Hall where Judith Chambers, Community Relations Director, showed me around and headed me in the right direction. We did find a merchants listing dated 1877 which had George R. Bowman, 41 W. Washington Street, Confectionary and Dry Fruit. I knew then, for sure, that we had the right person, the right address and the right business...but too late for the Civil War. This did not say though that George Bowman was not at 41 W. Washington Street during the Civil War. Ms. Chambers suggested that I check with the Washington County Court House and the library, so I headed for the public library.

At the library I found old newspapers, more county records and a Western Maryland Room full of history and a special BOWMAN folder. I started with the newspapers as the Western Maryland Room was not yet open...much to my frustation!

I searched all available copies of the Hagerstown Weekly Mail, the local newspaper. Unfortunately, most of the Civil War issues are missing. Copies are found from August 2, 1861 to November 14, 1861, but are missing until August 27, 1864! I could find no mention of a George R. Bowman in these issues. I spot checked later issues in the 1860's and early. '70's but again no mention of our George Bowman. He obviously did not believe in spending money on advertisements. H istorians at the library told me that the missing papers will show up someday as they were on file some years back. but when the papers were put on microfilm they were "borrowed" and have not been returned.

By then the Western Maryland Room was open. I immediately sought out the BOWMAN folder. Much to my disappointment the folder contained mostly letters of correspondence to and from persons attempting geneabgical research on the Bowman family. I did find some census records with the entire Bowman family listed. In 1850, the census taken in District 1, Hagerstown, Md., lists George Bowman, age 46, wife Catharine, age 43 and the following children: John, age 20, Susan, age 17, Ann, age 14, David, age 12, George E., age 9 and joseph, age 8. I could find no 1860 census but the 1870 census of Smithsburg (about ten miles east of Hagerstown) lists: George Bowman, age 66, Catharine, age 62, children: George E., 29, Joseph, 26 and his wife Henrietta, 27 and child Rebecca, age 1. In 1880 the Washington County census lists: George Bowman, 76, Catharine, 73, George #., 37 (George E. seems to have lost a couple of years!). From these records we can establish a birth year of 1804 for George R. Bowman. We also know that he lived in Hagerstown before the Civil War and after the Civil War.

I found several other bits of information in other sources George R. Bowman was listed as one of the directors of the Washington County Water Works in 1880. His Grandfather, John Bowman of Hance, settled in Salisbury Hundred near present Williamsport, Md., before 1730. George R. Bowman's father, George Bowman, Sr., was born May 14, 1777 and served in the war of 1812. He died March 10, 1865. In a book on marriages I found that George R. Bowman and Catharine B. McAfee were married on August 2, 1830. I could not find a biographical sketch on any Bowman.

Just as I was about to give up my search in the Western Maryland Room I came across an old city map of Hagerstown dat ed 1850. There, but to my wondering eyes did I spot on the corner of West Washington Street and Locust Street — a residence bearing the name "G. BOWMAN". Assuming that this is our George we can conclude that he did own property on West Washington Street before the Civil War.

It was time to check the county court house for land transactions. There were numerous recordings under the name George R. Bowman. CONTINGED IN THE NEXT ISSUE
